

2002 CAN University Row at the Virginia Gold Cup

- 132 American University
Catholic University of America
- 131 George Washington University
Illinois State University
Syracuse University
- 130 Boston College
University of Massachusetts
- 129 University of Notre Dame
Georgetown University
Northwestern University

- 128 Pennsylvania State University
Indiana University of Pennsylvania
- 127 Purdue University
Arizona State University
Georgia Tech
University of Connecticut
- 126 University of Michigan
Wake Forest University
- 125 University of Central Florida
Florida State University
University of Florida
- 124 University of Texas
Hampden-Sydney College
University of Iowa

- 123 University of Richmond
Tulane University
Villanova University
- 122 College of William and Mary
Clemson University
Cornell University
MIT
- 121 University of Virginia
North Carolina State University
- 120 James Madison University
- 119 Virginia Tech
University of Pittsburgh
West Virginia University
- 118 Capital Alumni Network
Roanoke College

Informally organized in 1999 by the official alumni organizations of the College of William and Mary, James Madison University, and the University of Virginia, "University Row" started as a modest string of three adjacent tents hosting independent events. Virginia Tech joined as the fourth member school when it shared a tent with UVA in 2000. In 2001 the Row became unified under CAN and it more than doubled, growing to seven tents and seventeen schools. This year's Row claims nearly a third of all North Rail chalet tents and includes fifteen tents and two viewing areas. Over thirty-eight schools from all over the country are participating.

DRAFT V.6

Official Caterer: R & R Catering
 Official Transportation Partner: Greyhound
 Official Publicity Partner: MonthlyBuzz.com

See reverse side for schedule and post-Gold Cup entertainment options.

<http://www.universityrow.net>

Copyright © 2002, Capital Alumni Network